

SEEDS IN THE GROUND: An Experiential Introduction to Christian Wisdom

“Incarnation achieves unity beneath the level of culture and cultures; culture is a differentiating objectification of that which remains one on the level of the body. The incarnation which took place in Jesus and continues throughout humanity is the transmission of the gift of divinity, of the One, at a depth transcending consciousness and thought. The seed has gone into the ground.” - Fr. Bruno Barnhart

Join this 6-week introductory course on Christian Wisdom, co-facilitated by Benjamin Thomas and Jonathan Steele.

Through the modalities of teaching, spiritual practice, and group engagement we will co-create a container for Wisdom exploring six living themes of the Western Contemplative path: Christianity as an Open System of Surrender, Benedictine Monasticism, The Spirituality of the Desert Mothers and Fathers, Embodied Witnessing Presence, and The Heart as an Organ of Spiritual Perception.

Join us as we gather with other Wisdom seekers from around the world for this experiential introduction to Christian Wisdom. Receive weekly companion emails with summary content, preview material, and targeted spiritual practice that coincides with each week's theme. Allow the context of Wisdom to awaken or deepen your discovery of Christianity as a dynamic, evolutionary, practical, and embodied spiritual path as we convene around a common aim to grow in our embodiment of love for the sake of the planet.

This course will take place via Zoom on Wednesday evenings at 6 pm ET for 90-minutes, beginning October 6, 2021 through November 3, 2021 for six consecutive weeks.
